Resettlement of refugees: promoting greater solidarity

Amendment¹ No. 3

tabled by the Committee on Migration, Refugees and Displaced Persons

In the draft resolution, replace paragraph 8 with the following paragraph:

"In relation to Syria, there have been some commendable efforts by member States in providing asylum or humanitarian protection for Syrian asylum seekers and also admitting Syrian refugees under resettlement, humanitarian admission and other programmes. 17 member States have participated in the UNHCR's call for the admission of 30 000 Syrian refugees in 2014. Yet, the UNHCR has called member States to commit towards providing urgently an additional 100 000 places for Syrian refugees for 2015-2016."
