

Doc. 14216
24 January 2017

Reinforcing social dialogue as an instrument for stability and decreasing social and economic inequalities

Amendment¹ No. 19

In the draft resolution, after paragraph 5.6, insert the following paragraph:

"remind trade unions that "on the basis of the definition of workers organisation contained in Article 10 of Convention No. 87, the Committee on Freedom of Association considers that strikes of a purely political nature [...] do not fall within the scope of the principles of freedom of association", (International Labour Organisation, 1966d, §481). Therefore, the Assembly condemns all strikes of a purely political nature against legitimately and democratically elected governments."
