COUNCIL OF EUROPE
CONSEIL DE L'EUROPE

Doc. 14304
26 April 2017

Benefits to Council of Europe member States arising from improved leadership and levels of psychological wellbeing within their national economies

Written declaration No. 628

This written declaration does not reflect the position of the Assembly; only of those members that have signed it. It will not be considered further by the Assembly.

Within Council of Europe member States, this is to draw attention to the opportunity for better economic performance by raising standards of the psychological wellbeing of employees and of good leadership in management.

Such raised standards in business and industry would enhance productivity and output within national economies as they also would the quality of public services, including those of education, health and the police force.

To assist democracy and the quality of life, we encourage the Committee of Ministers to assess these potential benefits and to publish guidelines for deployment.
