2. Information on national selection procedure for the position of a judge of the European Court of Human Rights

Letter from Mr Srđan Darmanović, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Montenegro to Mr Wojciech Sawicki, Secretary General of the Parliamentary Assembly, dated 8 February 2018.

In accordance with the procedure of election of the Judge of the European Court of Human Rights, and after receiving information on successful completion of the evaluation by the Advisory Panel¹ of Experts on Candidates for Election as Judge of the European Court of Human Rights, I am honored to invite you to find below the List of three candidates for the election as Judge in respect of Montenegro.

The List, comprising the names of three candidates, given in alphabetical order along with their biographies enclosed herein, endorsed by the Government of Montenegro at the session of September 21, 2017, is as follows:

- Mrs Ivana JELIĆ, PhD in Law, associate professor of the Faculty of Law of the University of Montenegro;
- Mrs Mirjana POPOVIĆ, Judge of the High Court in Podgorica;
- Mr Boris SAVIĆ, President of the High Court in Podgorica.

In addition, the present list is the outcome of the national procedure of selection of candidates that, we strongly believe, reflects the principles of democratic procedure, the rule of law, non-discrimination, accountability and transparency.

As the first step in the process, the Government of Montenegro, by way of the decision, established on 22 June 2017 the Commission for establishing the list of candidates to be endorsed by the Government. The Commission's composition is as follows:

- Mr Zoran Pažin, Deputy Prime Minister and the Minister of Justice, Chairman of the Commission, and members:
- Mrs Vesna Medenica, President of the Supreme Court of Montenegro,
- Mr Dragoljub Drašković, President of the Constitutional Court of Montenegro,
- Mr Adrijan Vuksanović, Chairperson of the Committee on European Integration of the Parliament of Montenegro,
- Mr Dragan K. Vukčević, President of the Montenegrin Academy of Sciences and Arts,
- Mr Momir Jauković, Head of the Division for Organization of Judiciary in the Ministry of Justice, Secretary of the Committee.

1. Established by the Resolution CM/Res(2010)26.

The Government's decision laid down the Commission's competences as follows:

- to assess whether the candidates fulfil the requirements set out in the public vacancy call for the establishment of the list of three candidates to be elected as a judge of the European court of human rights and that should be in line with the guidelines of the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms and other relevant Council of Europe documents,
- to submit to the Government the List comprising three candidates for the election as judge to the ECHR.

At the same time, in order to perform this Commission's task, the Government's conclusion as of 22 June 2017 laid down the obligation to the Ministry of Justice to announce, in line with the guidelines of the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, a public call for the election of three candidates for the election as judge of the ECHR in the Official Gazette of Montenegro, and in the daily media outlets in Montenegro.

Accordingly, the public vacancy call was published on 23 June 2017 in the Official Gazette of Montenegro, website of the Ministry of Justice and daily newspapers Pobjeda, Dan, Vijesti and Dnevne Novine. The public call enlisted the requirements for the post of a judge to the European Court of Human Rights, documents to be submitted, as well as the deadline and manner of filing the application.

Namely, in addition to the general criteria for entering the state administration employment as laid down in the Law on Civil Servants and State Employees (Montenegrin citizenship, age of majority, medical capability, educational qualification certificate, clear criminal records certificates (no criminal liability for an offence that would make an applicant unfit for the work state administration body and no ex officio criminal prosecution underway), the candidate for the post of a judge to the European Court of Human Rights shall meet the following additional criteria:

- Law Faculty Diploma,
- Judicial State Exam Certificate or the similar academic certificate in line with the special law
- The minimum of 15 years of professional experience in the law profession
- The maximum of 65 years of age
- The appropriate experience in the area of human rights
- High moral character and fit for performing the office of a judge
- Fluent in English or in French, whereas the fluency in both languages is to be considered as an asset.

The deadline for submission of the applications was 15 days as of the date of the publication of the public vacancy call.

The following nine applicants have submitted required documentation in a timely manner: Mr Vladan Đuranović, lawyer; Ms Ivana Jelić PhD, associate professor of the Law Faculty of the University of Montenegro; Ms Desanka Lopičić, Judge of the Constitutional Court of Montenegro; Ms Valentina Pavličić, Representative of Montenegro before the European Court of Human Rights; Ms Mirjana Popović, Judge of the High Court in Podgorica; Ms Vesna Ratković, PhD, Member of the Prosecutorial Council; Ms Jelena Ružičić, judge of the Basic Court in Nikšić; Mr Boris Savic, President of the High Court in Podgorica and Ms Danka Živković, Head of the Basic State Prosecutor's Office in Kotor.

The first meeting of the Commission took place on 31 July 2017 when the Commission established its working methods and took note of the submitted applications and the required documentation. At the same meeting, the Commission concluded that all applicants meet the requirements defined in the public call.

Along with the relevant legal experience and high moral character, the English or French language knowledge was a sine qua non condition for the candidates for a post of a judge to the European Court of Human Rights. Thus, the Commission concluded that the active knowledge of English or French language of applicants should be separately assessed during the interview, which was indicated in the public call. To that end, the Commission concluded that experts for English and French languages, from amongst the court interpreters for these languages, should be hired for the interviews.

All applicants were timely and properly informed that the interview would be conducted in one of the official languages of the Council of Europe, depending on what was stated in their applications. Interviews were held on 4 September 2017 at the premises of the Supreme Court of Montenegro. Experts for English and French language were present during the interviews, in addition to the chairperson, members and the secretary of the Commission. All applicants have attended individual interviews, according to the established sequence (alphabetical order by family name of applicant).

The Commission addressed the following topics during the interviews with all applicants:

- experience in the area of human rights;
- carrier path;
- motivation for applying to the public call.

The candidates were obliged to provide answers in French or English language. The Commission did not question the level of the candidates' legal knowledge.

Having assessed that the candidates met the requirements contained in the public call of 23 June 2017 and after conducting the interviews with professional assistance of experts for English and French, the Commission voted on the candidates in camera and the voting resulted in the proposal to the list of three candidates for the Government's final endorsement.

Distinguished Secretary General of the PACE,

The list of candidates that I have hereby presented is the same list that was established by the relevant commission and subsequently endorsed by the Government. After the Advisory Panel successfully concluded its evaluation, I have a particular pleasure to forward you the list of candidates for the Judge of the ECHR on behalf of Montenegro.

Furthermore, I avail myself of this opportunity to thank you and the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe for all the support provided to Montenegro since our accession to the Council of Europe. Allow me to ensure you about our readiness to permanently enrich our relations.

[...]

III. Relevant professional activities

a. Description of judicial activities

- As a member (2015-2018) and Vice President (as of March 2017) of the UN Human Rights Committee, I have taken part in consideration of the cases and adoption of Views concerned.

Although the Committee is an international treaty body and not a court, its jurisdiction of taking decisions in respect of alleged violations of civil and political rights, as guaranteed by the ICCPR, is de facto connected with international judicial activity, although treated in theory of law as a quasijudicial activity.

2. Text in bold indicates posts or missions held at present.

Having in mind that the above mentioned jurisdiction of the Committee at universal level is a pandan to the jurisdiction of the ECtHR at regional European level, as well as that the proceedings are almost identical, the members of the Committee take part in decision making process concerning applications on violations of civil and political rights and make decisions in the form of Views of the Committee.

As a member of the Committee, and in particular of its Working Groups deciding on the individual applications (communications) against the states, as contracting parties, concerning alleged violations of civil and political rights protected by the ICCPR, I took part in consideration, reporting and adoption of the Views concerning about 210 cases.

b. Description of non-judicial legal activities

- As a member of the UN Human Rights Committee, I have been a member of numerous Task Forces (and a rapporteur) in charge of considering the state reports and conducting dialogues with the states – High Contracting Parties, and finally adopting concerned Concluding Observations of the Committee. I have also taken part in drafting and adopting its General Comment no. 36 on the right to life.
- As a member of the CDDH (2008-2012), on regular basis I took part in its complex work on advancing the human rights agenda and was elected by the colleagues to serve among fourteen experts of the Council of Europe, with the task to negotiate with the EU certain legal aspects of the accession of the Union to the Convention, and consequently to propose the draft accession agreement.
- As a member of the ACFC (2012-2016), I took part in the work on minority rights protection, through its plenary sessions and also field missions to five states (Latvia, Denmark, Spain, Finland and Armenia). In addition, I represented this body at the international conference on Sami people in Finland in 2014. As of 2014, I also served as a Gender Equality Rapporteur, representing the ACFC within the structure of the Council of Europe.
- As an Associate Professor of the Faculty of Law and Faculty of Political Science of the University of Montenegro (appointed from March 2013 to March 2018), I teach the following courses: Public International Law, International Human Rights Law, International Legal Clinic and Diplomatic and Consular Law (for BA and Specialist academic programs) and European Protection of Human Rights (for MA academic program).
- As an Assistant Professor of the Faculty of Law and Faculty of Political Science of the University of Montenegro (appointed from April 2008 to March 2013), my teaching obligations were focused on the following courses: Public International Law, International Human Rights Law, International Legal Clinic and Diplomatic and Consular Law (for BA and Specialist academic programs).
- As a Senior Teaching Assistant of the Faculty of Law of the University of Montenegro (March 2004 – March 2008), I had obligations of conducting practical teaching and trainings, as well as certain number of theoretical classes for Public International Law and all courses of the Specialist Program in Public International Law, among which is the course of International Human Rights Law.
- As a Teaching Assistant of the Faculty of Law of the University of Montenegro (March 2001 – March 2004) I had obligations concerning practical teaching and trainings for Public International Law and all optional courses of the Specialist Program in International Law, such as International Human Rights Law.
- As a Legal Officer in the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) in sub-Delegation in Montenegro (1999-2001), I was responsible for monitoring the protection of human rights of the victims of war and application of international humanitarian law, as well as in charge of dissemination of international legal standards concerned. This work was done in English and French, as official working languages of the ICRC.

c. Description of non-legal professional activities

- Involved in trainings and dissemination of human rights within civil sector, as of 1997, initially participating as a trainee and, as of 2004 as a lecturer.
- Coach and legal advisor of student teams for the moot court competitions in the field of public international and human rights law (ex. Jussup Moot Court – Washington D.C. 2006, IHL Moot Court – Belgrade 2005 and 2006, IHL regional Moot Court – Sarajevo 2008, winning team). Judge at Balkans Case Challenge Moot Court – Vienna, 2010.

- As of 2013, in the capacity of a Deputy Director of Straniak Academy for Democracy and Human Rights, which is joint academic educational project of the University of Montenegro, University of Vienna and Ludwig Boltzmann Institute for Human Rights in Vienna, I was involved in management, teaching and overall organization of four circles of summer academy for the advanced students of law and cognate disciplines from EU and non-EU universities (2013-2016).

IV. Activities and experience in the field of human rights

III. Relevant professional activities

a. Description of judicial activities

MP's courtroom experience spans almost 19 years.

As a barrister, MP has given legal advice and executed powers of attorney entrusted by clients, including direct application of the ECHR and its case-law in different litigation cases before regular and Constitutional courts of Montenegro. Once appointed as a judge (2010 – onwards), MP continued to directly implement the Convention and its case-law while delivering justice to parties before the court.

- 1998–2001 – Trainee at law firm. Main duties and responsibilities:
 - representing clients before the court;
 - carrying out other relevant procedures before different state bodies; and
 - providing direct administrative assistance to the principalis upon request.
- 2001–2010 – Attorney at law. Main duties and responsibilities:
 - Representing parties before the court in civil and criminal matters;
 - Representing clients in different administrative proceedings as well as in proceedings of enforcement of judgments. Legal services provided to clients represented included frequent application of international standards and instruments on protection of fundamental rights and freedoms – primarily ECHR and its case law but also relevant UN instruments – International Conventions from so called "big six group" including ICCPR and its protocols, ICSCLR, Convention on Protection of Children and their Committees practice. With regard to the ECHR, the majority of cases handled included but were not limited to Art. 2 (right to life), Art. 3 (prohibition of torture), Art. 5 (right to liberty and security), Art. 6 (right to a fair trial), Art. 8 (right to respect for family life), Art. 12 (right to marry) of the European Convention as well as the provisions of Art. 1 of Protocol 1 to the Convention (protection of property), and Art. 5 of Protocol 7 to the Convention (equality between spouses).
 - Representing clients in proceedings before the Constitutional Court of Montenegro. These proceedings included filing of Constitutional Complaints signaling possible violations of the fundamental rights and freedoms in concrete cases by regular courts. These included but were not limited to: right to unhindered enjoyment of family life, right to home, social rights, right to work, child protection etc.
 - As attorney at law, acting as external legal consultant for a certain number of NGOs whose scope of work included public awareness of human rights standards as well as mechanisms for their protection. As a part of these activities, legal advice was provided to the NGO "Safe women house", and MP was a member of the working group which drafted the Law on Witness Protection.

- Representing minorities and women in different court (including constitutional complaints) and administrative proceedings on pro bono bases;
- Managing office matters and supervising staff members;
- Registering different forms of legal entities in line with the Law on Business Companies; undertaking procedures as prescribed by the Tax Administration while representing companies and managing cooperation between newly registered companies and the Tax Administration upon the latter's request; obtaining various kinds of licenses for new companies upon clients' requests; and drafting contracts (in line with Business Law, Company Law, Family Law, Law on Properties etc.).

From 2006 to 2009 MP set up and registered more than 50 companies including one bank (preparing all contracts, procedures, licenses, establishing human resource department, contracts and procedures for other departments and branches of the bank).

MP represented various foreign investors in more than 100 procedures of purchasing and selling property (procedures which included negotiation, contract signing, transferring ownership from seller to buyer etc.) These activities also included representation of foreign citizens in various administrative proceedings (proceedings for obtaining residence permits, work permits, and other statutory issues).

- 28 December 2010–8 April 2015 – Judge of the Basic court in Podgorica. As a judge of the first instance court, MP dealt primarily with civil cases, and the scope of work was to hear and determine at first instance:

a) disputes relating to property, family and personal rights, copyrights and other matters except in disputes where the law prescribes the jurisdiction of another court;

b) disputes relating to correction or replying to information provided by the media and petitions relating to violation of personal rights committed through media;

c) disputes relating to: employment, conclusion and application of collective bargaining agreements, as well as all disputes between employers and trade unions; application of the rules on strike; appointment and removal of bodies in companies and other legal entities.

As a judge of a first instance court, MP was also a member of a panel of judges which was authorized to resolve matters related to enforcement and disputes arising in the course, or due to, enforcement proceedings as second judiciary instance.

- 08.04.2015 to present – Judge of the High Court in Podgorica. As a judge of the High court in Podgorica, MP has been assigned to the Civil Division of the Court as a member of three judges' panel, as well as to the criminal judicial panel (three judges). Acting as a judge of the High Court in Podgorica she:

1) hears and determines criminal proceedings for criminal offences punishable by law by imprisonment for a maximum of 10 years as principal punishment, regardless of the character, profession and position of the person against whom the proceedings are initiated, and for criminal offences of: manslaughter, rape, unauthorized production, keeping and releasing for circulation of narcotic drugs, instigation of ethnic, racial and religious hatred, discord and intolerance, etc.

2) decides at second instance (civil matters) on appeals against decisions rendered by the basic courts, and

3) resolves conflict of jurisdiction between basic courts

b. Description of non-judicial legal activities

- 2003–2005 – Special consultant to the UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights on right to a fair trial matters. In this capacity, MP provided legal advice on matters related to fair trial issues in cases which concerned potential severe human rights violations. These included, but were not limited to, cases of police torture, violence against women and war crimes.
- 2015–present – Lecturer at the Judicial Training Center of Montenegro on freedom of expression, and right to a fair trial within reasonable time
- 2017–present – Member of the Consultative Council of European Judges (CCJE)

c. Description of non-legal professional activities

National trainer to judges and prosecutors at the Judicial Training Center on right to freedom of expression and right to a fair trial as regulated by articles 6 and 10 of ECHR.

IV. Activities and experience in the field of human rights

- 2001–2010 – In the course of legal practice as an attorney, MP provided legal assistance in the field of human rights and fundamental freedoms for various clients, with a special emphasis on women and minorities rights in judicial and administrative proceedings as well as in the proceeding before the Constitutional court. The cases included (but were not limited to) rights on citizenship, residence, name, family, custody, social welfare, labour, property, etc. In significant number of cases MP directly applied not only the ECHR and related case law, but also other international treaties such as: UN human rights conventions, (noted above) the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, the Termination of Employment Convention (CETS No. 158) on termination of employment of the initiative of the employer etc.
- 2010 – present – As a judge – either of first or second instance court, in cases assigned to her, dealt with direct implementation of article 2 (right to life), article 5 (right to liberty and security), article 6 (right to a fair trial / particularly right to access the court as implicit right), article 8 (right to respect for family and private life), article 10 (freedom of expression), article 1 of Protocol 1 to the Convention (right to property), article 5 of Protocol 7 to the Convention (equality between spouses in their relations with their children) and ECtHR case-law concerning these articles. Several cases – in which she was a judge rapporteur – included balancing and application of different articles – e.g. the right to a home (article 8 of the Convention) and right to property (article 1 of Protocol 1 to the Convention). In certain cases it happened that several different conventions and international treaties were applied, such as: the Convention on the Rights of the Child, the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, the International Convention on Civil and Political Rights, the Convention on Preventing and Combating Violence Against Women and Domestic Violence (Istanbul Convention), the Termination of Employment Convention (CETS No. 158) on termination of employment of the initiative of the employer etc. A significant number of judgments confirming what has been stated above were submitted together with the application to the public call for establishing a list of three candidates for the election of a judge of the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg no. 01-112-7716 / 17 of 06.23.2017, and can be resubmitted at your request.

Overall in MP's 19 year long career in the courtroom, she dealt directly with the implementation of ECHR standards through the case in capacities of an attorney and as a judge. Last but not least, MP provided expertise and advise to UN High Commissioner for Human Rights and to NGO sector in Montenegro.
