2. Report on the procedure to select three candidates for election as judge to the European Court of Human Rights

In view of the expiry of the non-renewable term of office of the Italian judge at the European Court of Human Rights, Mr Guido Raimondi, the Secretary General of the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe, Mr Wojciech Sawicki, in a memorandum dated 9 November 2017 informed Mr Marco Marsilli, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary, Permanent Representative to the Council of Europe, that it was necessary for Italy to initiate the procedure for the selection of candidates for the election of judge at the aforementioned court, and drew attention to the regulatory framework within which this procedure should be implemented.

Accordingly, in a memorandum dated 2 March 2018 addressed to the Italian Prime Minister, the acting Minister of Foreign Affairs initiated the procedure to shortlist three Italian candidates interested in holding this position.

The selection of candidates is regulated by Parliamentary Assembly Resolution 1646 (2009), which stipulates the selective nature of the procedure and outlines the procedure to be followed. The subsequent Resolution CM/Res(2010)26 adopted by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe on 10 November 2010 provided for the establishment of the Council of Europe's Advisory Panel of Experts. Lastly, in document CM(2012)40-final, adopted on 28 March 2012, the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe outlined the guidelines on the selection of candidates for the post of judge at the European Court of Human Rights.

In order to meet the criteria set out in the above regulations, the Presidency of the Council of Ministers, in agreement with the Ministers of Justice and Foreign Affairs, adopted the procedure outlined below.

Public notice

The selection process was initiated by a public notice adopted by the Secretary General of the Presidency of the Council of Ministers on 25 May 2018, published in the Official Gazette 4^a Special Series – Competitions and Exams – No. 43 of 1 June 2018. Expressions of interest were received by the Presidency of the Council of Ministers within the mandatory deadline of thirty days from the publication of the notice (1 July 2018).

The public notice indicated the requirements deemed necessary for participation in the selection procedure, as provided for by the abovementioned regulations, and specified the need for interested parties to submit a declaration stating that they were aware that the job was full time, incompatible with the performance of any other professional activity, even for a fixed period, and required a continuous period of residence in Strasbourg.

In addition, in order to ensure maximum transparency in the selection procedure and evaluation of the candidates by persons having the necessary expertise, point 6 of the notice provided for the establishment, by means of a specific subsequent provision, of an inter-ministerial committee comprised of five experts tasked with producing a shortlist of three candidates. One of the experts would be appointed by the Presidency of the Council of Ministers (acting as Chair), two by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Co-operation and two by the Ministry of Justice.

Establishment of a Committee of Experts

In a memorandum dated 5 July 2018, the Minister of Justice appointed Dr Filippo Spiezia, National Member for Italy of Eurojust, and Dr Vladimiro Zagrebelsky, former judge of the European Court of Human Rights, to represent the Ministry. In a memorandum dated 13 July 2018, the Secretary General of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Co-operation notified the appointment of Minister Manuel Jacoangeli, former Permanent Representative of Italy to the Council of Europe in Strasbourg and currently serving at the Ministry, and Minister Plenipotentiary Francesca Tardioli, Deputy Political Director/Principal Director for the United Nations and Human Rights, as members representing the Ministry.

Pursuant to the provision of 26 July 2018 issued by the Secretary General of the Presidency of the Council of Ministers, the Inter-ministerial Committee of Experts was therefore established to shortlist the three candidates, chaired by Prof. Giuseppe Tesaro, President Emeritus of the Constitutional Court, and composed of the abovementioned appointees, Dr Manuel Jacoangeli, Dr Filippo Spiezia, Dr Francesca Tardioli and Dr Vladimiro Zagrebelsky.

The Committee's work

The Committee of Experts, assisted by a Technical Secretariat set up within the Department of Administrative Co-ordination at the Presidency of the Council of Ministers, held its first meeting on 1 August 2018. At that meeting, the Committee examined the documentation and, on the instructions of the Chair, members were given special pen-drives containing the files relating to the expressions of interest and all the documents of the procedure in order to enable them to examine the CVs of the 63 candidates more quickly. At its next meeting on 28 August 2018, the Committee collectively examined all the expressions of interest received, together with the related documentation as forwarded by the candidates.

In assessing the CVs, the Committee took into account the criteria set out in the guidelines adopted by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe on 28 and 29 March 2012 (CM(2012)40-final), including the criterion of gender equality, and the requirements set out in the notice published in the Official Gazette 4^a Special Series – Competitions and Exams – No. 43 of 1 June 2018. On the basis of those requirements and criteria, the Committee, after extensive and in-depth examination and discussion, shortlisted, by a majority of four votes to five, the following three candidates: Dr Antonio Balsamo, judge at professional seniority level VI (24-28 years of service), Professor Ida Caracciolo, professor of international law in the Department of Political Science at the University of Campania “Luigi Vanvitelli” and Dr Raffaele Sabato, judge at the Italian Supreme Court of Cassation. Their CVs are appended.

In the light of the information contained in the CVs and documents examined, the Committee did not consider it necessary to interview the candidates.

The Committee's decisions were submitted, for information, to the Italian Council of Ministers on 7 September 2018 and following that meeting, the President of the Council of Ministers that day sent a memorandum to the Chair of the Committee of Experts for the Selection of the Italian Judge to the European Court of Human Rights, asking him to explain the reasons behind the choices made with regard to the evaluation of the candidates.

In view of that request, the Head of the Department of Administrative Co-ordination at the Presidency of the Council of Ministers expressed the need to inform the Secretary General of the Council of Europe, via the Permanent Representative of Italy to the Council of Europe, that an additional period of time was required in which to complete the necessary formalities. On 13 September 2018, the Advisory Panel of Experts on Candidates for Election as Judge to the European Court of Human Rights granted an extension to the original deadline of 6 September 2018, set at no later than 5 October 2018.

The Committee met on 12 and 20 September 2018.

At its meeting on 12 September 2018, the Committee reviewed and confirmed the reasoning that supported the assessments and choices made at the meetings on 1 and 28 August 2018 and, after reviewing all the CVs, drafted and discussed a summary of their contents, accompanied by a final summary opinion on each candidate profile. The Committee noted that of the 63 candidates, the majority (52) did not sufficiently meet the requirements laid down in the public notice to be positively assessed for the position in question.

On the basis of the above exclusions, the Committee shortlisted 11 candidates whose profiles it considered particularly impressive and therefore deserved further consideration.

In-depth reports were drafted and discussed with a final summary opinion on four candidates and the work was adjourned to be finalised at a subsequent meeting. At its meeting on 20 September 2018, the Committee drafted and discussed the reports on the remaining seven candidates, together with the related final opinions and, on the basis of the discussions and comments at the meetings on 1 and 28 August 2018 and 12 September 2018, it confirmed, by a majority (four out of five), the following three candidates: Dr Antonio Balsamo, Professor Ida Caracciolo and Dr Raffaele Sabato. It considered that, although the remaining candidates had impressive profiles and possessed the relevant qualifications, they could not be evaluated at the same level as the three shortlisted candidates.

A report on the Committee's work was presented at the Council of Ministers' meetings on 27 September and 4 October 2018.

The Committee's work was recorded in the minutes of the meetings, signed by the members of the Committee.

Shortlisting three candidates

Following the report given to the Council of Ministers, the President of the Council of Ministers, via the Permanent Representative of Italy to the Council of Europe, provided the Council of Europe Advisory Panel of Experts with the list of the three candidates: Dr Antonio Balsamo, Professor Ida Caracciolo and Dr Raffaele Sabato, already recommended by the Committee of Experts.

IV. Activities and experience in the field of human rights

Human rights and, in particular, fair trial requirements have been the central to my entire professional life whether as a Judge in charge of proceedings, a Prosecutor before the Court of Cassation or a Professor of Criminal Law.

- As a national Judge in trials concerning some of the most serious crimes committed within the State over the last decades, I have handed down several judgments that have developed an interpretation of Italian legislation in a manner consistent with the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights with a view to proactively creating a legal culture within which Convention rights are promoted rather than merely observed.
- As an International Judge, I was and remain charged with responsibility for ensuring that the Kosovo Specialist Chambers conducts hearings at all times in a manner that is consistent with international human rights standards and, in particular, with those guaranteed under the European Convention on Human Rights.
- As Presiding Member of the Human Rights Review Panel of EULEX Kosovo, I had the opportunity of disseminating and enforcing European and international human rights standards and strengthening the conditions necessary for the effective functioning and development of democratic institutions.
- Through my academic and scientific work, as well as my activities in the fields of training of judiciary, capacity building and draft legislative reforms, I have contributed in a concrete manner to the spread of a human rights culture.

Appendix 3 – Raffaele SABATO

CURRICULUM VITAE³

I. Personal details

Name, forename: Sabato, Raffaele

Sex: Male

Date and place of birth: 1st October 1960, Castellammare di Stabia, Naples, Italy

Nationality: Italian

II. Education and academic and other qualifications

1. He was educated at the “Liceo Classico Plinio Seniore” in his home town, Castellammare di Stabia (Italy, full marks, 1977) and then took a U.S. “High School Diploma” (McAllen, Texas, U.S., summa cum laude, 1978) as an AFS scholar.

2. He read law at the University of Naples (later renamed “Federico II”; among his professors, Antonio Tizzano for EU Law). His thesis dealt with comparative law issues in references to Islam contained in some constitutions vis-à-vis international human rights texts (Italy, summa cum laude, 1983). Upon recommendation by prof. Benedetto Conforti, chair of his thesis examining board, he was awarded by Italy’s “Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche” (National Research Agency) a grant to pursue these studies at the University of Alexandria (Egypt, 1985; the scholarship was then given up due to start of employment with the Bank of Italy- see infra III.b.1).

3. Upon leave from the Bank of Italy (see infra III.b.1), he received an MCJ (Master of Comparative Jurisprudence) degree at the University of Texas at Austin Law School as a Rotary Foundation scholar (Texas, U.S., 1983; prof. Russell J. Weintraub and prof. Kenneth Simmonds from the London University were his supervisors for term papers respectively in Conflicts of Law and International Law).

4. During his service at the Bank of Italy he studied toward a graduate degree in Political Science at the University of Macerata (Italy, summa cum laude, 1988) and a post-graduate degree in Commercial Law at the University of Naples “Federico II” (Italy, full marks, 1991).

III. Relevant professional activities

a. Description of judicial activities

1. After appointment as a judge in 1991 on the basis of a public competitive examination, he practised in the Naples Court, for about 20 years, in some core areas of the law, mainly in a civil and occasionally in a criminal court: commercial, banking, real property, wills, personal injury, consumers’ contracts, corporations, etc. He often dealt with European law issues connected with cases he adjudicated; he covered the role of coordinating judge in the civil Court for letters rogatory and judicial co-operation. Mostly operating as a single judge, he often participated in panel cases, sometimes serving as presiding judge starting in 2009.

2. Based on a ranking as “Excellent” granted by a mixed National Panel for Judicial Appointments composed of judges, attorneys and law professors, in 2012 he was called by Italy’s CSM (Consiglio Superiore della Magistratura – the self-governing body for the judiciary) to serve as a justice in the Italian Supreme Court of Cassation. He was initially in the Civil Chamber specializing in Tax Law (often with an EU law impact) and then in the Civil Chamber specializing in Property, Wills, Contracts and Supervision on Professionals and Financial Activities. He is serving in this chamber as of 2018.

3. In the period 2000-2018, upon appointment by the Italian CSM, he also served as member of the Consultative Council of European Judges (CCJE) within the Council of Europe (Strasbourg, France). He was member of its Working Party since its very start in 2000; was elected Vice Chair of the CCJE for 2004 and 2005, and Chair for 2006 and 2007 (the latter by a unanimous vote of the Council’s Plenary). In 2006 he took up the CCJE’s Chair succeeding the previous Chairs, Lord Mance (UK) and Alain Lacabarats (F), and then having Julia Laffranque (EST) as Vice-Chair and successor in the Chair. At present he is still serving in the Council. The CCJE is the advisory body in the area of the judicial profession to the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe and has issued several Opinions to the attention of the CM on topics related to art. 6 ECHR, as well as a Magna Carta for Judges and situation reports on the judiciaries of CoE member states (see www.coe.int/ccje).

4. Between 1996 and 2012, he co-operated with Italy's CSM in the field of initial and permanent training of judges, serving as a trainer in civil law, civil procedure, organisation of the judiciary, judicial ethics, alternative dispute resolutions, European and international law, human rights; both for initial and in-service training of judges.

5. On the basis of his experience in training, for the period 1998-2001 he was appointed as a member of the Scientific Committee for Judicial Training at the CSM, with the task of identifying training needs of the judiciary, proposing training initiatives, supervising the same initiatives during realisation. In such capacity he has organised a number of training initiatives at the national level aimed at the training of newly recruited judges, as well as of experienced judges; within the Scientific Committee, he has been responsible for European and international activities in the field of judicial training; in this position, served as liaison with foreign judicial training structures, the European Judicial Training Network, as well as the EU (specifically, for the GROTIUS and SCHUMAN projects) and the Council of Europe. Numerous initiatives each year concerned the ECHR and the case law of the ECtHR.

6. In 2010 he was appointed by CSM as a member of the Board of Directors of the Italian School for the Judiciary, the public entity which took up from CSM, starting in 2012, the task of initial and permanent training for Italian judges and prosecutors. In the period 2012-2015 he was responsible within the School for the European and international sector (training on the ECHR and the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights (CFREU)), Consumers' protection, European Civil Procedure and Co-operation in Civil and Commercial Matters, International Private Law [especially in the area of family law, contract and tort law], Asylum Law, Intellectual Property and Antitrust Law, as well as Legal Languages; the training initiatives were developed in co-operation with several Universities and national and European authorities).

7. Starting in 1999, he has been called by the Council of Europe to serve as a judicial expert in a number of programmes of multilateral international co-operation: judicial and prosecutorial training, assistance on law drafts on the organisation and functioning of justice systems vis-à-vis art. 6 ECHR, reforms relating to ADR, etc. (among the Council of Europe bodies involved, the Lisbon Network, for which also served as General Rapporteur and Analyst; the joint programme Council of Europe-European Union for Albania; the co-operation framework with Azerbaijan; etc.); specific programmes involved Croatia and the Russian Federation; a new programme with Albania was active in 2014-2016.

8. Within the European Union, he has been a member of the Steering Party of a Phare Horizontal Programme for training in European Law of judges of countries which were candidates for accession (e.g. Slovakia and Slovenia); he has also been an expert for the TAIEX Programme (e.g. Georgia). Starting in 2013, in agreement with the Ministry of Justice, he has been serving as Contact Person within the Italian judiciary for the EU Commission Justice Scoreboard and other initiatives of the Unit Justice Policy and Rule of Law of the same Commission.

9. For the years 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014 and 2015, upon authorization of Italy's CSM, he was one of the co-drafters of the Reports to the Italian Parliament on the implementation in Italy of the decisions of the European Court of Human Rights. These yearly reports, under the authority of the Presidency of the Council of Ministers, are provided for by Law 9 January 2006, no. 12 with the goal of allowing monitoring by the Italian Parliament (see http://presidenza.governo.it/CONTENZIOSO/contenzioso_europeo/relazione_annuale.html).

b. Description of non-judicial legal activities

1. In 1985 he was selected in a national recruitment competition by the Bank of Italy (the domestic agency for banking supervision) to be employed in a position for law graduates. Initially working in Bolzano (in an area of Italy where bilingualism in Italian and German is in force), he then served in the Bank's headquarters in Rome until 1991, when he was appointed a judge, resigning while covering the position as junior manager ("Funzionario II") in the department "Normativa e Affari Generali di Vigilanza", having ranked 2nd on a national basis in the relevant advancement procedure.

2. In the session of 1985 he was admitted to the Bar (admission effective in 1987).

3. He developed an extensive experience in teaching and lecturing in the areas of civil, European and international law, and specifically human rights, as well as in delivering training in the same areas within the legal professions (see supra III.a.5-6). E.g.:

- since 1991, within the Chair of Private Law at the University of Naples “Federico II”, he has been organising and holding seminars on legal research and current issues of private law;
- starting in the academic year 2000-2001, he has been holding part-time professorships on a contract basis with several Post-Graduate Schools for Legal Professions at the Universities of Naples “Federico II”, Siena, Messina, Naples “Suor Orsola Benincasa” and Naples “Parthenope” in the areas of Civil Law, European Law, and judicial deontology in the framework of art. 6 ECHR;
- he has been a visiting scholar, on a yearly basis starting in 2006, at the Post-Graduate Course “EU Law: the protection of rights” organised by the Chair of European Union Law at the University of Naples “Federico II”.

c. Description of non-legal professional activities

IV. Activities and experience in the field of human rights

1. Starting from his university studies human rights (together with comparative law) have represented one of his core interests (see supra II.2). The perspective was enriched by studies in Political Science (see supra II.4). The main areas he developed were the impacts of the ECHR on the institutional framework of the state (especially the justice system), on fundamental political freedoms, on property law, on family law, etc.
2. In his judicial activities (see supra III.a.1-2) European law in general and human rights in particular have been carefully considered (e.g., recent decisions he drafted as a Supreme Court justice, mentioning the ECHR in the official abstract, are no. 3734 of 15/02/2018 and no. 20539 of 30/08/2017).
3. In the periods 1998-2001 (only for the civil sector) and 2012-2015 (both for the civil and the criminal sector), he has been the coordinator and responsible, in view of roles covered in the judicial training activity of his country (see supra, III.a.5-6), of training in European Human Rights Law and other international legal topics of Italy’s judges and prosecutors.
4. Having been for over 18 years (2000-2018) a member of the Consultative Council of European Judges (CCJE) within the Council of Europe (see supra III.a.3), member of its Working Party since its very start in 2000, Vice Chair for 2004 and 2005 and Chair for 2006 and 2007, he has extensively worked on numerous texts to the attention of the Committee of Ministers relating to the implementation of the ECHR (see e.g. <https://www.coe.int/en/web/ccje/ccje-opinions-and-magna-carta>).
5. Having served for about 20 years as an expert for the Council of Europe and the European Union in a number of programmes of multilateral international co-operation related to the ECHR and the CFREU (see supra III.a.7-8), he has developed a wide experience as to the several approaches to recognition and enforcement of human rights in several countries.
6. He has a large experience teaching and lecturing in the area of human rights (see supra III.b.3).
7. He has extensively published on topics relating to human rights (see infra VII, and especially: A.1 concerning art. 6 ECHR as to judicial impartiality; A.3 and A.4 concerning independence of justice under the same art. 6 and in general CoE standards; A.2 concerning art. 1 Protocol no. 1 vis-à-vis property law in the area of illegal expropriation, as per two landmark decisions of the ECtHR regarding Italy; A.5 concerning enforcement of ECtHR decisions in the Italian domestic system; other publications not listed).
8. Having been for the years 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014 and 2015, upon authorization of Italy’s CSM, one of the co-drafters of the Reports to the Italian Parliament on the implementation in Italy of the decisions of the ECtHR (see http://presidenza.governo.it/CONTENZIOSO/contenzioso_europeo/relazione_annuale.html – supra III.a.9), he has significantly researched on the acquis of the Strasbourg Court and has provided analyses of it.

X. Other relevant information

1. Soon after the establishment of the European Law Institute (ELI, Vienna) in 2011, in 2012 he was accepted as a Fellow in it. The ELI is an independent organisation aiming to improve the quality of European law, understood in the broadest sense to include the developments within the European Union and the Council of Europe. He is – inter alia – in the Human Rights discussions within the ELI. In 2014 he was elected to the Council. In 2017 was elected for a two-year term a member of the Executive Committee (see <https://www.europeanlawinstitute.eu/about-the-eli/bodies/executive-committee/>).

2. Having a non-professional interest in history and philosophy of the law and politics, he has promoted awareness in Italy of research done in France by the IHEJ – Institut des hautes études sur la justice (the Secretary General of which is the French judge Antoine Garapon). The IHEJ is an association proposing a qualitative reflection on the evolution of law and justice in an interdisciplinary and transnational environment. Since 2013 he is chercheur associé at the IHEJ (see <https://ihej.org/a-propos/les-chercheurs-associes/>). Within this framework he edited the Italian edition – and personally made the translation – of the volume by Antoine Garapon La raison du moindre État (Publisher Odile Jacob, 2010; Italian transl. Publisher Raffaello Cortina, 2012).

XI. Please confirm that you will take up permanent residence in Strasbourg if elected a judge on the Court.

I hereby have the pleasure to confirm that, if elected, I will take up permanent residence.
