Covid-19 vaccines: ethical, legal and practical considerations

Amendment[1] No. 1

In the draft resolution, after paragraph 7.5.1, insert the following paragraph:

"use vaccination certificates only for their designated purpose of monitoring vaccine efficacy, potential side-effects and adverse events;"

Explanatory note

Vaccination certificates should not be used as a "vaccination passport" (at borders, in aviation, or for access to services). Such use would be unscientific in the absence of data on the effectiveness of the vaccines in reducing transmission, the length of any acquired immunity, as well as the percentage of "failure" to produce immunity due to new variants, viral load and delayed second doses. Such use would also pose privacy concerns, and, taking into account the limited availability of vaccines, may perpetuate and reinforce exclusionary and discriminatory practices.
