Violent pornography: a test for human rights

Amendment¹ No. 14

tabled by the Committee on Social Affairs, Health and Sustainable Development

In the draft recommendation, at the end, insert the following paragraph:

“The Assembly urges the Committee of Ministers to adopt without delay a recommendation on comprehensive, mandatory, age-appropriate, medically accurate and evidence-based sexuality education, drafted in line with the indications provided in several texts adopted by the Assembly. This education should cover topics such as gender equality, consent, bodily autonomy, respectful personal relationships, emotional education and the prevention of sexual and gender-based violence.”
