Methods by which the condition of displaced persons can be remedied

Motion for a resolution tabled by Mr Edouard BONNEFOUS and other members of the Assembly

The Assembly instructs the Committee on Legal and Administrative Questions, in conjunction with the Committee on Social Questions:

a. to consider the present plight of the hundreds of thousands of displaced persons and refugees of European nationality, many of whom are still confined in camps or are subject to legal restrictions which deny them freedom to exercise trades or professions for which they have experience and training or to complete the studies and training already started in their own countries; and

b. to examine the possibility of according them, as European citizens, rights and opportunities for travel, employment and social benefits comparable with those of the citizens of the countries in which they reside, or to which they may emigrate.
