Resolution 205 (1961)[1]

Disarmament

Parliamentary Assembly

The Assembly

Welcomes the agreement on disarmament principles recently concluded between the Governments of the United States and the Soviet Union, and earnestly hopes that this will lead without delay to a nuclear test ban agreement, as a first step towards a multilateral general disarmament agreement under strict and effective international control.

1. Assembly debate on 25th September 1961 (13th and 14th Sittings) (see Doc. 1365, Motion tabled by Mr. Henderson and others). Text adopted by the Assembly on 25th September 1961 (14th Sitting).
