2. Procedure for the nomination of candidates to the office of Judge of European Court of Human Rights

1. Applicable legislation

The appointments of judges to the national courts in Sweden are made by the Government after a proposal from an Advisory Board, called the Judges Proposals Board (in Swedish Domarnämnden), on suitable candidates.

The Judges Proposals Board consists of nine members. Five of the members shall be or have been permanent judges and two of the members shall be lawyers active outside the judiciary. One of these lawyers must also be an attorney who is a member of the Swedish Bar Association. The other two members shall represent the public.

A new Act (2014:414) regarding the procedure for selection of candidates to nominate for positions at the Court of Justice of the European Union (EU) and the European Court of Human Rights was adopted and entered into force on 1 September 2014 ([Lagen (2014:414)] om nomineringar till Europeiska unionens domstol och Europeiska domstolen för de mänskliga rättigheterna). The Act (2014:414) is closely linked to the legislation for the appointment of national judges and refers to that legislation with some minor exemptions and additional rules.

For the text in Swedish of the Act (2014:414), see Annex 1. The content can in English be briefly summarised as follows:

In the first article (1 §) it is stated that the Act applies to the preparatory proceedings regarding the nomination of Judges and Advocates-General of the Court of Justice of the European Union and of Judges of the European Court of Human Rights.

According to the first paragraph of the second article (2 § 1 par.), such matters shall be prepared under the Act (2010:1390) on the appointment of permanent judges. This means, which follows from the Act (2010:1390), that the Judges Proposals Board is responsible for the preparatory proceedings and for proposing suitable candidates to the Government.

Finally, in the first paragraph of article four (4 § 1 par.) it is stated that the Government shall appoint a person with special knowledge about the work of the Court in question who shall attend and be given the opportunity to state an opinion in the Judges Proposals Board.

2. The preparation of the file by the Judges Proposals Board

In preparing the Judges Proposals Board's proposal of Mr Thomas Bull, Mrs Katarina Pålsson and Mr Erik Wennerström, the Act (2014:414) was applied.

As mentioned above, the first paragraph of article four (4 § 1 par.) in Act (2014:414) requires the Government to appoint a person with special knowledge about the work of the Court in question who shall attend and be heard in the Judges Proposals Board. Due to her special knowledge about the work of the European Court of Human Rights, former Judge Mrs Elisabet Fura was appointed as such an expert and participated in this capacity in the preparation of the file by the Judges Proposals Board.

The procedure under the Judges Proposals Board involved the following measures.

2.1 Advertisement to announce the vacancy

A statement of required qualifications was drawn up by the office of the Judges Proposals Board after consultation with the Ministry for Foreign Affairs and with reference to the European Convention on Human Rights, the Resolutions made by the Parliamentary Assembly and the Guidelines of the Committee of Ministers. The statement of qualifications was to form the basis of the selection of suitable candidates and be added to the dossier. For the text of the Statement of required qualifications in Swedish, see Annex 2.

An advertisement announcing the possibility of seeking to become the Government's candidates to the office of Judge at the European Court of Human Rights was published on the homepage of the Judges Proposals Board; www.domarnamnden.se. The advertisement listed the requirements for holding the office of Judge at the European Court of Human Rights as set out in the statement of required qualifications. Persons meeting these requirements were invited within a period of about one month to submit an application declaring their interest in being nominated for the position. For the text of the advertisement in Swedish, see Annex 3.

The advertisement was also published in two major daily newspapers – Svenska Dagbladet and Dagens Nyheter. Moreover, the advertisement was published on the websites advokaten.se and dagensjuridik.se, two major legal websites. An advertisement was also published at the intranet of the Swedish courts, accessible for all persons working at the Swedish courts.

Five persons applied for nomination. One of the applicants later withdrew his application.

2.2 Obtaining references on the candidates

After the time limit for declaring interest in being nominated for the position had expired, the Judges Proposals Board obtained written references about the applicants. The references were obtained from the persons who the applicants had mentioned in their applications.

2.3 The Interview Procedure

At its meeting on 7 June 2018 the Judges Proposals Board assessed the qualifications of the applicants and decided to call Mr Thomas Bull, Mrs Katarina Pålsson and Mr Erik Wennerström to interviews. According to the Board's preliminary assessment, they were the applicants who fulfilled the required qualifications for the office of Judge of the European Court of Human Rights.

The interviews were held on 12 June 2018 and were conducted by Mrs Marianne Lundius, former Justice of the Supreme Court, and Mrs Elisabet Fura, former Judge of the European Court of Human Rights. Present at the interviews were also Mrs Karin Sandahl, Administrative Director of the Judges Proposals Board, and Ms Linnea Andersson, reporting clerk at the Board.

2.4. The proposal on suitable candidates by the Judges Proposals Board

At its meeting on 15 August 2018 the Judges Proposals Board finalised its management of the matter by deciding to propose Thomas Bull, Katarina Pålsson and Erik Wennerström as suitable for the office of Judge of the European Court of Human Rights.

Before the decision was made the applicants who had been interviewed made a short presentation about themselves before the Board.

As grounds for the decision the Judges Proposals Board stated that Mr Thomas Bull, Mrs Katarina Pålsson and Mr Erik Wennerström are exceptionally skilled lawyers with solid experience of highly qualified legal work. According to the Judges Proposals Board they fulfil the exceptionally high qualifications required for the office of Judge of the European Court of Human Rights.

After the decision was made the Judges Proposals Board submitted the proposal to the Ministry for Foreign Affairs.

- 2012 – Director-General, National Council for Crime Prevention. Since 2012 transforming the production of the National Council (a government agency responsible for crime statistics and research for the benefit of the government and the judicial system) so that it now produces, i.a., statistics on hate motives behind and gender aspects of reported crime, and its research includes evaluations of the effects of reform measures in criminal law, not only from a perspective of efficiency, but also from a rights perspective.
- 2010–2013 – Observer of the Council of Europe Committee of Legal Advisers on Public International Law (CAHDI) to the negotiations on EU accession to the European Convention for Human Rights, within the formats CDDH-UE and 47+1. As the elected CAHDI observer to the negotiations for EU accession to the ECHR, important insights were acquired into the Court's procedures and working methods, as well as its challenges and possibilities, but above all the future challenges once accession takes place.
- 2008–2017 – Instructor on issues of international, humanitarian and human rights law. Since the launch of the EU Monitoring Mission in Georgia (EUMM Georgia) in 2008, I have provided monitors with their legal introduction to the mission, prior to their deployment.

Providing guidance on international law and human rights dimensions of various foreign policy matters of relevance to Sweden and the EU, including the war on terrorism, the status of Kosovo, the war in Georgia and the intervention in Libya. Negotiated (in 2008) the “Montreux document on pertinent international legal obligations and good practices for States related to operations of private military and security companies during armed conflict” in the aftermath of the Blackwater affair, underlining the non-derogable nature of certain rights. Negotiated the EU legal framework of the Human Rights Review Panel (2009) for alleged human rights violations by EULEX Kosovo. Negotiated, in conjunction with the sessions of the United Nations General Assembly Sixth Committee, the inclusion of references to the status of the rule of law in domestic affairs in the annual resolution on “The rule of law at the national and international levels” (starting with A/RES/63/128)
- 2004–2005 – Director for EU Affairs and Principal Legal Adviser, Folke Bernadotte Academy. While serving with the Folke Bernadotte Academy (a government agency for international crisis operations) I constructed and conducted training in i.a. human rights for missions being deployed to the Western Balkans and Iraq, notably on international law related to violations of human rights in times of war or emergency, training modules that were used by several European training institutions.
- 1998–1999 – Drafting the European Commission Communication Crime victims in the European Union. Reflexions on standards and action (COM (99) 349 final, 14 July 1999), which takes the first steps in integrating references to Council of Europe recommendations and United Nations resolutions into the emerging acquis, and in presenting the protection of crime victims as a right and conversely: an obligation under EU law, leading to the 2001/220/JHA: Council Framework Decision of 15 March 2001 on the standing of victims in criminal proceedings (replaced 2012 by the Crime Victims Directive 2012/29/EU).
- 1996–2009 – Assignments from the European Commission and its office for technical assistance and exchange (TAIEX) as expert and instructor regarding legislative projects and processes in Candidate and member States in Europe, as part of EU strategies for implementing the Copenhagen criteria. The legislative projects and processes concerned judicial co-operation, the interface between national criminal law and EU law, the rule of law as a standard for legislation and government, as well as fighting crime in a digital environment.

- 1996–2000 – Executive Secretary of the EC GROTIUS Programme (a subvention programme supporting projects in EU Member States, promoting judicial co-operation and mutual knowledge of the respective legal systems; ref. 96/636/JHA of 28 October 1996). Over the four years, more than a hundred different projects were initiated that purported to strengthen judicial co-operation in Europe with full compliance with human rights. Some projects – such as the European Judicial Network meeting series, and the EUROJUST conferences – in time led to the establishment of EU institutions, while other projects – such as the Eurobail proposal, eJustice – influenced future EU legislative proposals.
